I fully recognize that individuals must clearly demonstrate their fitness to serve in the position of a security officer. I further recognize that an employing agency has both a legal and moral obligation to take every reasonable effort to insure that any person employed by them as a security officer will conform to the very highest standards.

I understand that I will undergo a rigorous, in-depth background investigation as a result of my application for this position.

I understand that I am authorizing an intensive investigation into all aspects of my educational, employment and personal background, and that such an investigation will include contacting persons and/or organizations that have information relating to my background and fitness, including if I am or have been a security officer in California.

I understand that as part of the company's procedure in processing my application for employment, or at any time during any subsequent employment, the company may obtain an investigative consumer report for employment purposes, including but not limited to reassignment, promotion, retention and rehiring. This investigation into my present qualification for employment and, if employed, future qualification for reassignment, promotion, retention and rehiring, will include procurement of an investigative consumer report under California law and will inquire into information about my creditworthiness, credit standing, credit capacity, character, general reputation, personal characteristics, and mode of living. I understand that I have the right, during normal business hours, on reasonable notice, to: (a) view any files on me at any such investigative consumer reporting agency on presentation of appropriate identification; (b) be accompanied by one other person of my choosing while I examine the files, and (c) obtain a copy of the files on payment of a reasonable fee. ADVISEMENT TO APPLICANTS

The purpose of a pre-employment background investigation, for all intents and purposes, is to verify that the application you have submitted and any statements you have made to your prospective employer concerning your qualifications are true.

The California Courts have held that an employer has a legal duty to know the persons whom it employs. In some cases, California law may mandate a background investigation before employment, while in other cases it is merely a case of policy or prudence before placing someone in a position of trust.

Both State and Federal Courts have held that there is an absolute necessity for employees to be truthful. You must understand that a lack of truthfulness or deception of any type on your part will automatically, irrevocably result in your application being rejected from further consideration.

For some people, there may be one or more incidents or occurrences in their background which they regret or over which they may feel some embarrassment. BlackTalon will not make inquiries into areas of a person's background, which have no legitimate bearing on their qualifications for the job. However, you should understand that the mere presence of so-called "negative" information in your background is not automatically disqualifying. While these things in and of themselves may not automatically remove that person from consideration for a job, lying about them will!

We have processed many applications for security officer positions and we are very good at what we do. If you make untrue statements, shade the truth or otherwise attempt to deceive your prospective employer, these facts will be discovered. Therefore, it is absolutely to your advantage to be as candid as possible with the background investigator.

A pre-employment background investigation is not intended to be an intimidating experience or an unwarranted invasion into your privacy. A background investigator will contact persons who know you, including present and/or former employers and will examine official documents and records concerning you to assure that you have been honest in your application in order to fulfill the legal mandates imposed by the Courts and the Legislature. The more forthright you are, the greater the likelihood that your background can be completed in a timely and successfully manner.

CERTIFICATION

I understand that any false statements and/or deliberate misrepresentations, whether by omission or commission, will result in my application being automatically and irrevocably rejected from further consideration. I certify that I have read the above statement, understand its contents and have been furnished a copy of it.
